2.0 WHAT IS A COOKIE?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites you visit. They are commonly used to make websites work better or more efficiently, and to provide information to website owners. The use of cookies is now standard for most websites. If you do not wish to use cookies, you can manage and control them through your browser, including deleting cookies by deleting them from your 'browser history' (cache) when you leave the site.

Cookies do lots of different jobs, like letting you navigate between pages efficiently, remembering your preferences, and generally improving the user experience. Cookies may tell us, for example, whether you have visited the website before or whether you are a new visitor. They can also help to ensure that adverts you see online are more relevant to you and your interests.
